If the management cleaned the refrigerator as you claim the tell me, who did it?

I want to ask them about it.

So they say I unplugged the thing that is a fan that did not spin but got so hot I did unplug it?

I called them the same day and they said they would buy a new fan, did they tell you that?

So a fire hazard exists but you never came here,

Blame me for the maintenance man lying to me?

You come here and plug in that fan that does not work only gets hot and tell me that I was wrong!

They said next week we will fix it that was five months ago but thanks for blaming me.
