In my lawsuit I will ask who told you that here was just hanging wires?

Can you tell me who told you that, it certainly was NOT anyone you sent here.

Seems I have pictures that show otherwise, why lie?

I demand that you tell me who, if anyone, came here that gave you those conclusions?

It is impossible that there were hanging wires.

So, did you send an inspector where or did you believe the landlord or just lie?

NO YOU SENT NO ONE HERE.

TODAY ALL I complained still exists, but you closed it.

When you are subpoenaed to testify will you say that all there was from an inspector sent here in person or from what?

I am sitting here with all you claim was done but was not.

How many need to come here and prove you are corrupt.

Come here anytime and see the rear light that you say does not exist.

Come here and see that three common hallway lights do not ever come on.

Come here and see the dryer vent filled with lint.

Come into this apartment and see that the dishwasher does not work.

Come here and watch me try to open my entry door.

Come here and see that the counter was NOT secured.

The refrigerator is NOT in working order while the condenser cooling fan is not in working order.

NO ONE CLEANED ANYTHING as you claim.

Three months ago, the maintenance man told me to unplug it, and he would order one next week....

Now you are you are trying to blame me?

How fucking stupid are you?

To claim that "it is working great" without the cooling fan as prescribed by the manufacture?

You do not think that is a IPCM violation that the appliance is operating without the proper cooling device?

When there is a fire I am sure you will blame me too.

This will stop.
